Palazzo - For Sale - Balzan

BALZAN - A one of a kind property with lots of history and possibly one of the most sought after areas. Built by the Grandmaster to serve as his mistress"s residence then redevelopment in later years as a hotel to serve the British when Malta was part of the British empire. Spread just over 2,200sqm, most of which are palatial gardens with mature trees, surrounded by larger third part gardens and historic buildings. With approximately 80 sqm of internal space, the property could have multiple uses, even split to have different establishments. The Internal features are everything you would expect from such a grand property, arched ceilings, large rooms and grand entrances Currently the property is being run as a catering and wedding venue, with multiple seating arrangements and facilities, but property could also be converted into a magnificent home.
